WEDDING

BURKINSHAW—PROUDFOOT

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in Berry Creek Gospel Hall on July 18th, when Eileen Marguerite, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Proudfoot of Chinook, became the bride of Orville Victor Burkinshaw of Berry Creek, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Burkinshaw now of Calgary.

The bride who entered the Hall on the arm of her father was dressed in a gown of white embroidered sheer and carried a bouquet of red roses. She was attended by her sister Kathleen who wore a gown of pale pink sheer and had a bouquet of white carnations.

The groom was attended by his brother, Roy Burkinshaw who during the signing of the register sang, "Bless This House". The ceremony was performed beneath an arch way of roses, by Rev. Rose of Hanna. Sgt. James Proudfoot and William Proudfoot, brothers of the bride acted as ushers.

An informal reception in the form of a buffet luncheon was held immediately after at the home of the bride's parents with 45 guests in attendance. Assisting with the serving were the Misses Mary Evans and Jean Edler of Calgary, Mrs. Joe Long of Three Hills, Miss Olive McKeller of Berry Creek, and the Misses Evelyn and Anna Damsgard of Chinook.

Guests from other points included Mr. George Proudfoot of Dorothy, uncle of the bride, Mrs. Joe Long and son, Donald of Three Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Burkinshaw and Miss Victoria McKellar of Calgary, Sgt. James Proudfoot of Debert, Nova Scotia, and Miss Mary Edler of Olds.

For travelling the bride wore a two-piece printed jersey silk, a blue plaid coat and black accessories.

After the reception the bride

CEREALS HAVE A PLACE AT ANY MEAL, ANYTIME!

Science And Peace

DURING THE PAST CENTURY there has been great progress in the field of science and invention, and this progress has profoundly influenced the course of history. In the realm of communications alone, modern inventions have so greatly shortened the distances between cities, nations and continents, that it has been necessary to revolutionize our ideas on trade and commerce, foreign relations and many other questions. Developments in agriculture, medicine, electricity and other branches of science and engineering, have likewise had far-reaching effects on our social and economic life. Mechanical and scientific knowledge are important in modern warfare and during the two great wars which have been fought in this century, scientific progress has been greatly accelerated to meet the needs of the times. Much of the knowledge gained through intensive war research has peacetime uses, but of necessity much time and talent must be directed to creating forces of destruction.

Germans Tried For Leadership

In the case of both World Wars, German scientists and engineers have striven to lead the way in the invention of increasingly destructive weapons. It was they who introduced gas warfare during the First World War, and in the way just ended, it was they who inaugurated mass air attacks on cities, and the deadly "V" bombs. Since the end of the fighting in Europe, it has been revealed that had the war lasted a few months longer, other and even more destructive weapons might have been brought into use. German laboratories are now being systematically destroyed, and if the Allied nations adhere to their present policy, German scientists will never again be in a position to produce for war. Only one hundred years ago, Germany was the acknowledged leader in the field of science, and students from all parts of the world went to study at the German universities. This leadership continued for over fifty years, and many of the outstanding scientists of this and other countries received their training there.

One Hope For Future Peace

Because of the evil uses to which the Germans put the work of these scientists who remained to collaborate with the allies, Germany has now lost all prestige in the world of science. In other lands, however, we look to research and invention for continued contributions to progress in many fields. It is realized everywhere that upon the creation of new industries and the discovery of new uses for agricultural products and natural resources, lies one hope for prosperity and security in the future. In this, however, as in many other matters, the lessons of the past have taught us the importance of working and thinking internationally, not nationally. The late President Roosevelt, in one of his last speeches, delivered to a group of American scientists, said: "Today science has brought all the different quarters of the globe so close together that it is impossible to isolate them, one from another. Today we are faced by the pre-eminent fact that, if civilization is to survive, we must cultivate the science of human relations, the ability of all peoples, of all kinds, to live together and work together, in the same world, at peace."

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—Would it be possible to get some extra sugar and a little butter in order to prepare food for a club affair which is held to raise money for charity?

A.—No extra rations are allowed for functions of this type. It will be necessary for the club members to buy rationed articles with coupons from their own ration books.

Q.—I do not put up my own preserves. Can I use the canning coupons to buy commercially prepared preserves?

A.—Certainly. Any preserves coupons may be used to purchase any allowed quantity of commercial preserves, jams, jellies, marmalades or other foods which may ordinarily be purchased with preserves coupons.

Q.—Are public eating places allowed to serve poultry and fish on "meatless days"?

A.—Yes, public eating places across Canada are allowed to sell poultry and fish on Tuesdays and Fridays, which are the two "meatless days". Canned pork and beans, or kitchen-prepared dishes of pork and beans which contain strips of bacon cannot be served on these two days.

Q.—Is it necessary to advise the Wartime Prices and Trade Board if I decide to take in a couple of school girls next fall and give them board and room? A friend of mind told me I would have to obtain a license.

A.—It is not necessary to obtain from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board a license to operate your boarding and rooming house.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which you keep track of your selling prices, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in our province.

Young man—Well, I have to be at work at seven.

Customer—"I'll meet you. I'll forget the other half."

She: "It is disgraceful! Yesterday you kissed me against my will and today you try to repeat the offence."

He: "Well, a criminal always returns to the scene of his own crime."

Business Man: "I had a surprise this morning. I put on another suit and in one of the pockets I found a big roll of bills which I had entirely forgotten."

Pessimist: "Were any of them receipted?"

When Smith walked into his friend's office he found him looking very depressed.

"Hullo, old man," said Smith, "what's up?"

"Oh, just my wife," replied the other sadly. "She's engaged a new secretary for me."

"Well, there's nothing wrong about that. Is she a blonde or a brunette?"

"There's a lot wrong. He's bald."

Bridgroom (in poetic mood as they stroll along the shore): "Roll on, thou deep and dark blue ocean, roll!"

Bride: "Oh, Gerald, how wonderful you are! It's doing it."

Girl: "Oh, yes, indeed. I'm his sister."

Doctor: "So glad to meet you. I'm his father."

RURAL BUILDING NEEDS ARE IGNORED

The building supply needs of rural residents were stressed to Federal Cabinet Ministers recently in a brief presented by a delegation from the Western Retail Lumbermen's Association.

The delegation consisting of E. W. Stacey, Manager of Beaver (Alberta) Lumber Limited, of Edmonton, President of the Association, and H. Steinthorson, Asst. General Manager of the North American Lumber and Supply Co. Ltd., Winnipeg, a Director, in their discussions with top-ranking government officials, pointed out that the operations of such Crown companies as Wartime Housing, Limited, merely resulted in a concentration of materials and labor in the hands of government agencies, without producing any housing accommodation which private industry, if given the materials, could not supply at least as quickly and economically. Further, that these agencies were operating in cities only, whereas 65% to 70% of the Prairie population is rural, and, under present conditions, is largely deprived of any opportunity to build urgently needed homes. Homes are needed in the west for returning war veterans who want to settle in their home communities, for farmers and other rural residents.

The section of the brief dealing with this phase of the subject reads as follows:

"The operations of Wartime Housing Limited are confined to cities, and this is probably due to pressure on the part of city authorities. Supposedly houses presently being erected are to be available for rent to war veterans."

Actually, so far as the Prairies are concerned, somewhere near 95% of the personnel of the armed forces came from the farms, villages, and towns, and presumably will want to return to their home communities. What chances have they to provide themselves with homes, with no material available? Veterans who want to build their own homes as they want them, and where they want them, should come high up in the order of priority. They come nowhere today.

"We suggest that the whole question of concentration of building in cities should be the subject of early study and review. Is it desirable to encourage more people to live in cities? Should not the home builder on the farm, in the village and small town, be given at least an equal opportunity of securing material with which to build a home? It is estimated that in the Prairie Provinces about 30% to 35% of the people live in the cities and about 65% to 70% live outside the cities. There appears to be a tendency on the part of the Federal Government to neglect the needs of those living outside the cities. In contrast, the Provincial Governments are planning to make rural living more comfortable and attractive by the extension of electric power and other amenities."

Pointing out that the only way by which the building supply needs of the rural market can be serviced is through established retail channels, the brief concludes with a recommendation that the highest labor priority be given to manufacturers of all building materials in order to assure maximum production. A further recommendation is made that the present control of the distribution of building materials be so arranged that a reasonable and steady volume of these materials will at all times be available to the general public.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

ECONOMY

Men do not realize how great a revenue economy is—Cicero.

Frugality is good, if liberality be joined with it. The first is leaving off superfluous expenses; the last bestowing them to the benefit of others that need.—William Penn.

To disregard the welfare of others is contrary to the law of God; therefore it deteriorates one's ability to do good, to benefit himself and mankind.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Some are unwisely liberal, and more delight to give presents than to pay debts.—Sir P. Sidney.

It is no small commendation to manage a little well.—To live well in abundance is the praise of the estate, not of the person.—Bishop Hall.

Proportion and propriety are wisdom; and there is no surer test of integrity than a well-proportioned expenditure.—Hannah More.

Malta, British base in the Mediterranean, has an area of only 95 square miles.

EACH YEAR before the war, more than 150,000 people thronged the Indianapolis Speedway to witness the supreme test of tire mileage and safety, the annual 500-mile race.

Recently, under the supervision of the American Automobile Association, Wilbur Shaw drove the 500 mile course at an average speed of 100.34 miles per hour in a race car equipped with STOCK Firestone synthetic rubber tires, the same as you can buy at any Firestone Dealer's.

Imagine the punishment these tires took as they pounded over the rough brick and grinding asphalt... 500 miles at speeds up to 135 miles per hour... equal to 5,000 miles of ordinary travelling.

When you buy new tires, remember—Firestones are the only synthetic rubber tires made that are safely-proved on the speedway for your protection on the highway.

WARNING: The tire situation is still critical. You should continue to observe the wartime speed limit and all other fundamental precautions for conserving the tires that are now on your car.

Administration of approximately 125 girls at the Base Post Office is in charge of Lieut. Marjorie Hennessey, Port Alberni, B.C., and Sgt. Sadie Krantz, Killaloe, Ont. To qualify as postal sorters, CWACs must be alert, conscientious, but need no previous post office experience. "In the three years they have been employed they have proved their worth a thousand fold," says their officer commanding. "They seem to take a personal interest in speeding mail to the men overseas, some of whom are their own brothers, fathers, and sweethearts." Many of the girls wish to continue post office work in civil life, based on their experience in the Army.

Would Fill Pneumatic Tires With Helium On Airline

Pneumatic tires on the forthcoming giant airliner will be filled with 25 pounds of helium instead of 130 pounds of air which would normally be required for the job.

The net weight (not pressure) saving of 154 pounds will increase the available payload of the craft by exactly that amount.

Helium, being an inert gas that has no known chemical affinity for natural or synthetic rubber, should provide an extra dividend in a long tire life.—Business Week.

OUR COMPLETE
SHORT STORY—

Last Straws

— By —
ESTELLE M. NELSON

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

"Seems like a woman's back must be stronger than a camel's, or it couldn't hold so many last straws without breaking." Ma Perkins adjusted her specs to finish her son's rambling letter. Paying the milkman had interrupted, so she had handed it to Pa. But there was no response from her uncommunicative husband, hidden behind a gaudy Western Magazine.

"Just a month ago," mused Ma, "Betty and Bill left. Let's see. They were here six weeks before Bill got work. Before that, Jane and Eddie were here four months. Now, Phil and his wife coming home. Too bad for a college man like him to get fired. And times is bad—for him to be looking for a job in Wheeler's Garage. Well, his own home town is the place to come. And then buying their home, too. Spouse Tom Wheeler'll take him on as a salesman in his showroom, Pa?" Ma wiped a speck from her shining stove as Pa looked mildly over the top of his latest thriller. He was a little hard of hearing.

"Wouldn't be 'frighted," said Pa. Since being retired, his escape from the feminine world lay in reading back numbers of he-man pulps. He kept them in an orange crate and always used a bookmark. They were too precious to dog-eat.

Ma, returning, to the interrupted letter, read parts aloud.

"Will be down Friday night. Going to look up Tom Wheeler about a job... everybody needs a change... even the beautiful country view grows tiresome... hope to take in a movie..."

"Fin-m," mused Ma. Young folks today liked their sunsets in technicolor. Well, she could open her home to her son, poor as she was. She straightened her starched apron, smoothed back her grey hair. Gone were all her hopes of a restful summer—plans for simple trips to the end of the bus line with a bit of a picnic in the open fields, or down for a breath of the salty ocean.

Only two days remained to get ready, so Ma oiled her sewing machine and made crisp new curtains for the spare room. They would brighten the outlook for the young couple. When everything was shining, despite the July heat she set about baking enough pies and cakes to last a week. Eating was not outmoded in the masculine world, anyway. Pa thought she was overdoing. And more than likely, hoped Ma Phil had saved a bit and would help with the food bill. Her own budget for two was pretty tight, their bank account sadly slim.

Friday came. Ma's dining room was cool, her round table carefully set. The luxuriant window boxes had furnished a gay bowl of nasturtiums and one of purple petunias. Then came Phil's double ring, followed by his six-foot self and his diminutive wife, both clad in slacks suits, both berry-brown from the country sun.

Phil's embrace, Pa emerged from the sage brush of Mexico long enough to pump his son's arm.

"Just as soon's we've it, you can run down to Tom Wheeler's. Set your suitcase in the corner, Phil." Ma bustled into the kitchen, whisked back with platters of colorful salads. "I dropped in on the way down."

Nothing doing." Ma saw the light fade from his face, his lower lip protrude as it had when he was a small boy, hunched and clear sailing so long. "Maybe in a couple of weeks—I might have done better in the city." He sat down opposite Pa's rocker.

Ma laid the rolls on the table, patted his broad shoulder. "Never mind, son. I'm right glad to have you, and you're welcome to stay as long as you want." But they were only mechanical words of comfort. Phil was too independent, and it was up to Ma to change his point of view. Why, they might be here for months, with jobs so scarce.

With desperate calm she took his brown hand. "It ain't that I'm trying to run your affairs, Phil, but I do think you'd best take any job you can get." His only answer was a puzzled stare. Ma so seldom interfered. But she knew she had gone too far when Phil wheeled about and spoke to Pa. Well, he was entitled to some attention.

"Got something real exciting?" Phil had been watching the absorbed old man for some time. "Till say you have," he commented, as, after a casual perusal, he laid the magazine on the buffet. "Almost, Ma, but if you'd know I was still working and that the job I want is a two-toned green sports model. I'm turning in the old hack. Also, you'd be all excited about going back to the country with us Monday night. I brought our big suitcase. Yours won't hold enough for a six weeks' visit."

Joy and bewilderment mingled on Ma's face as she said, "Then I must have dropped one page in the wood box and Pa burned it. 'Course, he read it first, but Pa ain't much for talking."

Phil grinned. "When you handed the letter over to Pa, he copied the most important page for a bookmark." Reaching for Pa's magazine, Phil removed a neatly folded sheet of notepaper.

"That the milkman for interrupting when he did," said Ma.

Dogs For Canada

Sixteen Pet Dogs Shipped From England For Various Homes Here

Described as the largest shipment of its kind for some years, sixteen pet dogs, of various breeds, have arrived at Halifax from Liverpool. During the voyage the dogs were under the care of the ship's butcher and members of the crew took turns in exercising the animals.

The dogs were bound for new homes in various parts in Canada and in Stamford, Conn., and Brooklyn, N.Y., in the United States. On the overland part of their journey, they are in care of the express department of the Canadian National Railways.

Two Welsh Terriers are consigned to Stamford, Conn., and a cross-breed to Brooklyn. A retriever is going to Hamilton, Ont., a dachshund to Kitchener, Ont., a spaniel to Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., an alsatian and two spaniels to Toronto. A Welsh corgi, a rare breed, is consigned to Vancouver, while a retriever will find a new home in Winnipeg, a fox terrier to Sessmith, Alta., and an army setter in Chapleau, Ont. A retriever and a spaniel are bound for addresses in Westmount, Que.

PRAGUE NEWSPAPERS

Prague's 10 newspapers started publication recently as single small-size sheets. The paper conservation measure will be necessary for some weeks because no newsprint is being imported. No newspaper is owned by an individual. The owner must be a political party or organization, or a clearly defined interest, which is nationwide in scope. Four of the 10 papers represent political parties.

A manufacturing firm in Glasgow plans to put on sale after the war spun glass lighter wicks which will last forever. They are being manufactured now but all supplies are going to troops in the Far East and to the navy.

A little of this, a little of that: At Simcoe, Ont. "Army" Armistage playing bridge with Mauri Schmitt; D. Austin and W. A. Smith picked up a perfect no trump hand, with ace, king, queen of each suit with the jack of diamonds extra. . . . At Smith Falls, Ont., secretary Harry Barker of the Rotary club completes 12 years with a perfect attendance record. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Elgie of the Square Deal district in Alberta were driving in to Hanna when the steering gear on the car broke; to add to the distress the stork presented Mrs. Elgie with a bouncing baby girl at the same time, but both are doing fine, although they were stranded for a while. . . . Dauphin, Man., Herald gives orchids to the pair of enumerators who while out enrolling voters went to back doors, so as not to track mud over housewives' clean front steps and hall. At Gornely, Ont., 26-months Dean Dempster fell into a 35-foot unannounced well; 12-year-old Frank Geall went down via projecting bricks on the inside of the well, and brought her up, when neighbors let down a rope, and what a hero he is.

Post-war activity: At Drumheller, Alta., the flour mill was being converted into a brick factory, with machinery now being unloaded coming from Holland, Michigan. They already have a lot of orders before the plant is in operation.

Realism for the post-war: City council at Port Alberni, B.C. Care will be exercised in granting new business licenses, having in mind requirements of returned men, also getting co-operation of all local organizations for preparation of an authentic list of business opportunities to be made available to returned men.

The town of Cabri, Sask. (pop. 439) has a new Board of Trade, probably the only one with actual working lady members. They have started a tree planting program, building a kiddies playground, planning a memorial skating rink, and other innovations.

The Shawinigan (Que.) Standard shakes a finger with this thoughtful observation: "What we need, then, is not more facts but more conviction. More disclosures of graft and corruption will get us nowhere, unless we have more honest people. Some sit up and view with alarm our 'swing to the left.' But

AIR-SEA LIFEBOAT SAVES SIX OFF CANADA'S COAST—Marking the first successful operational dropping of an air-sea rescue lifeboat in North American waters was the rescue of six R.C.A.F. members off Newfoundland. The six fliers, now safely back at Gander, Nfld., took to dinghies when their aircraft was forced down while searching for the R.A.F. transport command Liberator which disappeared while bearing British officials home from the San Francisco conference. The airmen were found by a R.C.A.F. Liberator which promptly flashed word back to base. Another R.C.A.F. aircraft, a Hudson bombing air-sea rescue equipment, flew out to the scene and dropped the lifeboat. The men then were picked up from the lifeboat by a R.A.F. Canoe and flown to Newfoundland. A Royal Canadian naval ship picked up the lifeboat. Air-sea rescue lifeboats are equipped with emergency rations, water and many other articles, including a well-stocked first aid kit.

our need is for more people who will wake up and stand out for what is right. And for more people who will courageously take upon themselves that full personal responsibility which is democracy's only answer to totalitarianism."

Lucky or unlucky, Friday the 13th April, was the day Japs held at Tashme, B.C., had to decide whether to accept repatriation to Japan or accept domicile east of the Rockies. The Chilliwack Progress hears it said that 70 per cent. had signified their intention of returning to Japan. Maybe they've changed their minds since May 8.

What about the franchise for 18-year-olds? The Wolfville (N.S.) Acadian discusses suffrage and has this to say in part: "One reason advanced for the granting of the right to vote at an earlier age is that young people today possess knowledge equal to those who in other days were much older. In answer to this it might be said that wisdom rather than knowledge is the important factor in qualifying one to vote, and this is best gained by experience."

THREE AWARDS AT ONCE—

Three awards, the highest number ever presented to a single Canadian flier, at one time since Fitt-Lieut. George (Buzz) Buerling of Verdun, Que., was decorated, were handed by the King, on July 3, to Wing Com. Geoffrey Northcott, 25, of Minnesota, Man. The fighter ace received the Distinguished Service Order and the Distinguished Flying Cross and bar. Wing Com. Northcott won the D.F.C. in August, 1943, after flying 55 operations as a Spitfire pilot, and the bar to the D.F.C. came three months later. The D.S.O. he received for "outstanding actions over the Normandy beaches" during the invasion of France. Northcott is 25 and a wartime volunteer known in the air force as an expert in attacks on shipping.

Wheat Exports

Expect That Carry-Over Will Again Show Moderate Increase

Canada and the United States, as the two major wheat exporting countries nearest Europe and with a surplus of wheat, are now moving this bread grain overseas as rapidly as transportation and port capacity will permit. Six weeks before the end of the 1944-45 crop year on July 31, 1945, Canada had exported nearly 288 million bushels of wheat and wheat flour. Seeing that the Canadian wheat surplus available for export or carry-over during the current crop year was about 630 million bushels, it now appears, states the Monthly Review of the Wheat Situation, that year-end stocks will be between 285 and 300 million bushels. A carry-over of this size would be moderately below the 356 million bushels of old wheat on hand at July 31 a year ago, and the lowest since 1939.

The reduced carry-over in Canada may be largely offset by increased stocks in the United States which are expected to range from 350-375 million bushels, as compared with 316 million bushels at July 1, 1944. In view of the favourable prospects of the United States harvesting another billion bushel wheat crop in 1945, it is now expected that the carry-over of old wheat in Canada in mid-summer of 1946, on the other hand, is likely to be still further reduced in the light of smaller planting this spring and the present heavy export program which is scheduled to extend into the new crop year.

APPROPRIATE NAME

June, a small town in Texas, got its name from the fact that the town's first bartender, back in 1885, served only near-beer and always answered "You know" when people asked him what he had to drink. Names pronounced it ju-know and when application was made for a post office the name ju-know, now spelled June, was sent in.

Making New Homes

Thousands Of Canada's Fighting Men Are Staying In Britain

The rather startling disclosure is made that more than 20,000 members of Canada's armed forces have decided to remain in Britain. This estimate is made by F. C. Phipps, organizing secretary of the Canadian Branch of the British Legion in London. The number is seven times greater than the number of Canadians who decided to settle in Britain after the first World War.

Discussing the subject of the 20,000 Canadians who will "stay on" in Britain, the Globe and Mail ventures the view that most of them have decided to remain "for no other reason than a love of Britain." That is as good a reason as any, and when it is considered, it may not be far from being the right one.

It is probable that many of the 20,000 are men who have spent the last three, four or five years of their lives mostly in England. Five, four and even three years in his twenties, as most of the servicemen are. It may be that they have become so used to the English way of life that they have decided to stick with it. And there is probably a woman in the background in numerous cases.—Ottawa Citizen.

Annual Meeting Of The U. F. A. Co-op Store

The annual meeting of the U. F. A. Co-op Store was held in Chinook on Wednesday, July 18th, drew a small attendance, despite its importance, which consisted of the reading of the report of the past year's business and the
and the election of the local advisory committee. Mr. Mc-Coll in his report stated the store showed a surplus of $334.00. on the years' opera-was satisfactory, since all the

MEN FOR HOME BUILDING MUST BE SECURED

Home building is highly essential to overcome pressing housing shortages, and to provide dwellings for the Forces as discharged.

Shortages of workers for building homes and for producing the building materials are threatening to impede Canada's program for the construction of 50,000 homes as soon as possible.

All men experienced in home building or in producing building materials, who are not now working in either of these industries, are urged to apply to the nearest office of the National Employment Service immediately.

Men experienced at home building or producing supplies, if now in other essential work, will be given permits to work at jobs which will assist the house building program.

All men, not now at house building nor producing supplies, who can fill a job in this program, are urged to answer this call.

Apply at once at the nearest office of the National Employment Service.
